16.63.1.7 DEFINITIONS:

A. Appropriate supervision:

(1) Supervision shall be provided by an individual qualified by the board of social work examiners. Applicants and supervisors will engage in the process of supervision in accordance with the guidelines established by the board.

(2) Supervision for licensed masters level social workers aspiring to achieve licensure at an independent clinical level shall be provided by an independent social worker licensed at the LISW or LCSW level who is engaged in direct clinical practice or by a licensed clinical professional approved by the board.

(3) Supervision for master level social workers practicing clinical social work, not aspiring to achieve licensure at the clinical independent level, shall be provided by an independent social worker licensed at the LISW or LCSW level who is engaged in direct clinical practice, or other supervision approved by the board.

(4) The relationship between the supervisor and supervisee must be designed to promote the development of professional social work skills for the delivery of social work services. These skills include the integration of theory and practice, the development and application of intervention techniques, the development and constant improvement of social work standards and ethics, and the continued acquisition of professional knowledge. Within the limits set forth by the board, teleconferencing and group supervision will be accepted.

(5) Supervisors shall evaluate and oversee the manner in which the above skills development is reflected in the supervisee's practice. The supervisor's responsibility insures that the supervisee acquires the necessary skills required for advanced and professional social work practice. Supervisors shall immediately notify the board if there is a problem in the supervisory process or if the supervisor sees the applicant as unsuitable for this highest level of licensure.

The supervising individual must be in good standing with their own professional licensing board. Board approval must be received prior to the commencement of supervision and no more than 30 hours of the required 90 hours may be obtained through non LISW/LCSW supervision.

(10) When a LCSW applicant seeks board approval for supervision from either an LCSW at the place of employment or from an outside supervisor who is not employed at the same agency as the LMSW seeking licensure, a signed agreement must be made between all parties. The agreement must include a statement that all client information is to be confidential and recognize that the decisions regarding clinical care rests with the agency/organization. The employing agency shall be kept informed of any changes in the supervisory process.

16.63.16.7 DEFINITIONS: [Reserved]

16.63.16.8 SOCIAL WORKERS' ETHICAL RESPONSIBILITIES TO CLIENTS:

A. Commitment to clients. Social workers' primary responsibility is to promote the well being of clients. In general, clients' interests are primary. However, social workers' responsibility to the larger society or specific legal obligations may on limited occasions supersede the loyalty owed clients, and clients shall be so advised. (Examples include when a social worker is required by law to report that a client has abused a child or has threatened to harm self or others.)

B. Self-determination. Social workers respect and promote the right of clients to self-determination and assist clients in their efforts to identify and clarify their goals. Social workers may limit clients' right to self-determination when, in the social workers' professional judgment, clients' actions or potential actions pose a serious, foreseeable, and imminent risk to themselves or others.

C. Professional disclosure statement. A social worker shall effectively communicate through handout or other means as appropriate for all clients and may display at the social worker's primary place of practice a statement that the client has the right to the following:

(1) to expect that the social worker has met the minimal qualifications of education, training, and experience required by the law;

(2) to examine public records maintained by the board which contain the social worker's qualifications and credentials;

(3) to be given a copy of the standards of practice upon request;

(4) to report a complaint about the social worker's practice to the board;

(5) to be informed of the cost of professional services before receiving the services;

(6) to privacy as allowed by law, and to be informed of the limits of confidentiality;

(7) limited access to client information; a social worker shall make reasonable efforts to limit access to client information in a social worker's agency to appropriate agency staff whose duties require access;

(8) supervision or consultation; a social worker receiving supervision shall inform the client that the social worker may be reviewing the client's case with the social worker's supervisor or consultant; upon request, the social worker shall provide the name of the supervisor and the supervisor's contact information;

(9) to be free from being the object of discrimination while receiving social work services; and

(10) to have access to records as allowed by law including retention and notification requirements in Paragraphs (4) and (5) of Subsection D of 16.63.16.10 NMAC.

D. Informed consent.

(1) Social workers shall provide services to clients only in the context of a professional relationship based, when appropriate, on valid informed consent. Social workers should use clear and understandable language to inform clients of the purpose of the services, risks related to the services, limits to services because of the requirements of a third-party payer, relevant costs, reasonable alternatives, clients' right to refuse or withdraw consent, and the time frame covered by the consent. Social workers should provide clients with an opportunity to ask questions.

(2) In instances when clients are not literate or have difficulty understanding the primary language used in the practice setting, social workers shall take steps to ensure clients' comprehension. This may include providing clients with a detailed verbal explanation or arranging for a qualified interpreter or translator whenever possible.

(3) In instances when clients lack the capacity to provide informed consent, social workers shall protect clients' interests by seeking consent from an appropriate third party, informing clients consistent with the clients' level of understanding. Social workers should take reasonable steps to enhance such clients' ability to give informed consent.

(4) In instances when clients are receiving services involuntarily, social workers shall provide information about the nature and extent of services and about the extent of clients' right to refuse service.

(5) Social workers who provide services via electronic media (such as computer, telephone, radio, and television) shall inform recipients of the limitations and risks associated with such services.

(6) Social workers shall obtain clients' informed consent before audiotaping or videotaping clients or permitting observation of services to clients by a third party. The written informed consent shall explain to the client the purpose of the taping or recording and how the taping or recording will be used, how it will be stored and when it will be destroyed.

(7) If the client, the legal guardian, or other authorized representative does not consent, the social worker shall discuss with the client that a referral to other resources may be in the client's best interest.

E. Competence.

(1) Social workers shall provide services and represent themselves as competent only within the boundaries of their education, training, license, certification, consultation received, supervised experience, or other relevant professional experience.

(2) Social workers shall provide services in substantive areas or use intervention techniques or approaches that are new to them only after engaging in appropriate study, training, consultation, or supervision from people who are competent in those interventions or techniques.

(3) When generally recognized standards do not exist with respect to an emerging area of practice, social workers shall exercise careful judgment and take responsible steps (including appropriate education, research, training, consultation, and supervision) to ensure the competence of their work and to protect clients from harm.

F. Cultural competence and social diversity.

(1) Social workers shall understand culture and its function in human behavior and society, recognizing the strengths that exist in all cultures.

(2) Social workers shall have a knowledge base of their clients' cultures and be able to demonstrate competence in the provision of services that are sensitive to clients' cultures and to differences among people and cultural groups.

(3) Social workers shall obtain education about and seek to understand the nature of social diversity and oppression with respect to race, ethnicity, national origin, color, sex, sexual orientation, age, marital status, political belief, religion, and mental or physical disability.

G. Conflicts of interest.

(1) Social workers shall be alert to and avoid conflicts of interest that interfere with the exercise of professional discretion and impartial judgment. Social workers shall inform clients when a real or potential conflict of interest arises and take reasonable steps to resolve the issue in a manner that makes the clients' interests primary and protects clients' interests to the greatest extent possible. In some cases, protecting clients' interests may require termination of the professional relationship with proper referral of the client.

(2) Social workers shall not take unfair advantage of any professional relationship or exploit others to further their personal, religious, political, or business interests.

(3) Social workers shall not engage in dual or multiple relationships with clients or former clients in which there is a risk of exploitation or potential harm to the client. In instances when dual or multiple relationships are unavoidable, social workers shall take steps to protect clients and are responsible for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries. (Dual or multiple relationships occur when social workers relate to clients in more than one relationship, whether professional, social, or business. Dual or multiple relationships can occur simultaneously or consecutively.)

(4) When social workers provide services to two or more people who have a relationship with each other (for example, couples, family members), social workers shall clarify with all parties which individuals will be considered clients and the nature of social workers' professional obligations to the various individuals who are receiving services. Social workers who anticipate a conflict of interest among the individuals receiving services or who anticipate having to perform in potentially conflicting roles (for example, when a social worker is asked to testify in a child custody dispute or divorce proceedings involving clients) shall clarify their role with the parties involved and take appropriate action to minimize any conflict of interest.

H. Privacy and confidentiality.

(1) Social workers shall respect clients' right to privacy. Social workers shall not solicit private information from clients unless it is essential to providing services or conducting social work evaluation or research. Once private information is shared, standards of confidentiality apply.

(2) Social workers may disclose confidential information when appropriate with valid consent from a client or a person legally authorized to consent on behalf of a client.

(3) Social workers shall protect the confidentiality of all information obtained in the course of professional service, except for compelling professional reasons. The general expectation that social workers will keep information confidential does not apply when disclosure is necessary to prevent serious, foreseeable, and imminent harm to a client or other identifiable person. In all instances, social workers shall disclose the least amount of confidential information necessary to achieve the desired purpose; only information that is directly relevant to the purpose for which the disclosure is made shall be revealed.

(4) Social workers shall inform clients, to the extent possible, about the disclosure of confidential information and the potential consequences, when feasible before the disclosure is made. This applies whether social workers disclose confidential information on the basis of a legal requirement or client consent.

(5) Social workers shall discuss with clients and other interested parties the nature of confidentiality and limitations of clients' right to confidentiality. Social workers shall review with clients circumstances where confidential information may be requested and where disclosure of confidential information may be legally required. This discussion shall occur as soon as possible in the social worker-client relationship and as needed throughout the course of the relationship.

(6) When social workers provide counseling services to families, couples, or groups, social workers shall seek agreement among the parties involved concerning each individual's right to confidentiality and obligation to preserve the confidentiality of information shared by others. Social workers shall inform participants in family, couples, or group counseling that social workers cannot guarantee that all participants will honor such agreements.

(7) Social workers shall inform clients involved in family, couples, marital, or group counseling of the social worker's, employer's, and agency's policy concerning the social worker's disclosure of confidential information among the parties involved in the counseling.

(8) Social workers shall not disclose confidential information to third-party payers unless clients have authorized such disclosure.

(9) Social workers shall not discuss confidential information in any setting unless privacy can be ensured. Social workers shall not discuss confidential information in public or semipublic areas such as hallways, waiting rooms, elevators, and restaurants.

(10) Social workers shall protect the confidentiality of clients during legal proceedings to the extent permitted by law. When a court of law or other legally authorized body orders social workers to disclose confidential or privileged information without a client's consent and such disclosure could cause harm to the client, social workers shall request that the court withdraw the order or limit the order as narrowly as possible or maintain the records under seal, unavailable for public inspection.

(11) Social workers shall protect the confidentiality of clients when responding to requests from members of the media.

(12) Social workers shall protect the confidentiality of clients' written and electronic records and other sensitive information. Social workers shall take reasonable steps to ensure that clients' records are stored in a secure location and that clients' records are not available to others who are not authorized to have access.

(13) Social workers shall take precautions to ensure and maintain the confidentiality of information transmitted to other parties through the use of computers, electronic mail, facsimile machines, telephones and telephone answering machines, and other electronic or computer technology. Disclosure of identifying information shall be avoided whenever possible.

(14) Social workers shall transfer or dispose of clients' records in a manner that protects clients' confidentiality and is consistent with state statutes governing records and social work licensure.

(15) Social workers shall take reasonable precautions to protect client confidentiality in the event of the social worker's termination of practice, incapacitation, or death.

(16) Social workers shall not disclose identifying information when discussing clients for teaching or training purposes unless the client has consented to disclosure of confidential information.

(17) Social workers shall not disclose identifying information when discussing clients with consultants unless the client has consented to disclosure of confidential information or there is a compelling need for such disclosure.

(18) Social workers shall protect the confidentiality of deceased clients consistent with the preceding standards.

I. Access to records.

(1) Social workers shall provide clients with reasonable access to records concerning the clients. Social workers who are concerned that clients' access to their records could cause serious misunderstanding or harm to the client shall provide assistance in interpreting the records and consultation with the client regarding the records. Social workers shall limit clients' access to their records, or portions of their records, only in exceptional circumstances when there is compelling evidence that such access would cause serious harm to the client. Both clients' requests and the rationale for withholding some or all of the record shall be documented in clients' files.

(2) When providing clients with access to their records, social workers shall take steps to protect the confidentiality of other individuals identified or discussed in such records.

J. Sexual relationships.

(1) Social workers shall under no circumstances engage in sexual activities or sexual contact with current clients, whether such contact is consensual or forced.

(2) Social workers shall not engage in sexual activities or sexual contact with clients' relatives or other individuals with whom clients maintain a close personal relationship when there is a risk of exploitation or potential harm to the client. Sexual activity or sexual contact with clients' relatives or other individuals with whom clients maintain a personal relationship has the potential to be harmful to the client and may make it difficult for the social worker and client to maintain appropriate professional boundaries. Social workers--not their clients, their clients' relatives, or other individuals with whom the client maintains a personal relationship--assume the full burden for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries.

(3) Social workers shall not engage in sexual activities or sexual contact with former clients because of the potential for harm to the client. If social workers engage in conduct contrary to this prohibition or claim that an exception to this prohibition is warranted because of extraordinary circumstances, it is social workers--not their clients--who assume the full burden of demonstrating that the former client has not been exploited, coerced, or manipulated, intentionally or unintentionally.

(4) Social workers shall not provide clinical services to individuals with whom they have had a prior sexual relationship. Providing clinical services to a former sexual partner has the potential to be harmful to the individual and is likely to make it difficult for the social worker and individual to maintain appropriate professional boundaries.

K. Physical contact. Social workers shall not engage in physical contact with clients when there is a possibility of psychological harm to the client as a result of the contact (such as cradling or caressing clients). Social workers who engage in appropriate physical contact with clients are responsible for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries that govern such physical contact.

L. Sexual harassment. Social workers shall not sexually harass clients. Sexual harassment includes sexual advances, sexual solicitation, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.

M. Derogatory language. Social workers shall not use derogatory language in their written or verbal communications to or about clients. Social workers shall use accurate and respectful language in all communications to and about clients.

N. Payment for services.

(1) A social worker who provides a service for fee shall inform a client of the fee at the initial session or meeting with the client. Payment must be arranged at the beginning of the professional relationship, and the payment arrangement must be provided to a client in writing. A social worker shall provide, upon request from a client, a client's legal guardian, or other authorized representative, a written explanation of the charges for any services rendered.

(2) When setting fees, social workers shall ensure that the fees are fair, reasonable, and commensurate with the services performed. Consideration should be given to clients' ability to pay.

(3) Social workers shall avoid accepting goods or services from clients as payment for professional services. Bartering arrangements, particularly involving services, create the potential for conflicts of interest, exploitation, and inappropriate boundaries in social workers' relationships with clients. Social workers shall explore and may participate in bartering only in very limited circumstances when it can be demonstrated that such arrangements are an accepted practice among professionals in the local community, considered to be essential for the provision of services, negotiated without coercion, and entered into at the client's initiative and with the client's informed consent. Social workers who accept goods or services from clients as payment for professional services assume the full burden of demonstrating that this arrangement will not be detrimental to the client or the professional relationship.

(4) Social workers shall not solicit a private fee or other remuneration for providing services to clients who are entitled to such available services through the social workers' employer or agency.

O. Clients who lack decision-making capacity. When social workers act on behalf of clients who lack the capacity to make informed decisions, social workers shall take reasonable steps to safeguard the interests and rights of those clients.

P. Interruption of services. Social workers shall make reasonable efforts to ensure continuity of services in the event that services are interrupted by factors such as unavailability, relocation, illness, disability, or death.

Q. Termination of services.

(1) Social workers shall terminate services to clients and professional relationships with them when such services and relationships are no longer required or no longer serve the clients' needs or interests.

(2) Social workers shall take reasonable steps to avoid abandoning clients who are still in need of services. Social workers should withdraw services precipitously only under unusual circumstances, giving careful consideration to all factors in the situation and taking care to minimize possible adverse effects. Social workers should assist in making appropriate arrangements for continuation of services when necessary.

(3) Social workers in fee-for-service settings may terminate services to clients who are not paying an overdue balance if the financial contractual arrangements have been made clear to the client, if the client does not pose an imminent danger to self or others, and if the clinical and other consequences of the current nonpayment have been addressed and discussed with the client.

(4) Social workers shall not terminate services to pursue a social, financial, or sexual relationship with a client.

(5) Social workers who anticipate the termination or interruption of services to clients shall notify clients promptly and seek the transfer, referral, or continuation of services in relation to the clients' needs and preferences.

(6) Social workers who are leaving an employment setting shall inform clients of appropriate options for the continuation of services and of the benefits and risks of the options.

16.63.16.9 SOCIAL WORKERS' ETHICAL RESPONSIBILITIES TO COLLEAGUES:

A. Respect.

(1) Social workers should treat colleagues with respect and should represent accurately and fairly the qualifications, views, and obligations of colleagues.

(2) Social workers should avoid unwarranted negative criticism of colleagues in communications with clients or with other professionals. Unwarranted negative criticism may include demeaning comments that refer to colleagues' level of competence or to individuals' attributes such as race, ethnicity, national origin, color, sex, sexual orientation, age, marital status, political belief, religion, and mental or physical disability.

(3) Social workers shall cooperate with social work colleagues and with colleagues of other professions when such cooperation serves the well-being of clients.

B. Confidentiality. Social workers shall respect confidential information shared by colleagues in the course of their professional relationships and transactions. Social workers should ensure that such colleagues understand social workers' obligation to respect confidentiality and any exceptions related to it.

C. Interdisciplinary collaboration.

(1) Social workers who are members of an interdisciplinary team shall participate in and contribute to decisions that affect the well-being of clients by drawing on the perspectives, values, and experiences of the social work profession. Professional and ethical obligations of the interdisciplinary team as a whole and of its individual members shall be clearly established.

(2) Social workers for whom a team decision raises ethical concerns should attempt to resolve the disagreement through appropriate channels. If the disagreement cannot be resolved, social workers shall pursue other avenues to address their concerns consistent with client well being.

D. Disputes involving colleagues.

(1) Social workers shall not take advantage of a dispute between a colleague and an employer to obtain a position or otherwise advance the social workers' own interests.

(2) Social workers shall not exploit clients in disputes with colleagues or engage clients in any inappropriate discussion of conflicts between social workers and their colleagues.

E. Consultation.

(1) Social workers should seek the advice and counsel of colleagues whenever such consultation is in the best interests of clients.

(2) Social workers should keep themselves informed about colleagues' areas of expertise and competencies. Social workers should seek consultation only from colleagues who have demonstrated knowledge, expertise, and competence related to the subject of the consultation.

(3) When consulting with colleagues about clients, social workers should disclose the least amount of information necessary to achieve the purposes of the consultation.

F. Referral for services.

(1) Social workers shall refer clients to other professionals when the other professionals' specialized knowledge or expertise is needed to serve clients fully or when social workers believe that they are not being effective or making reasonable progress with clients and that additional service is required.

(2) Social workers who refer clients to other professionals shall take appropriate steps to facilitate an orderly transfer of responsibility. Social workers who refer clients to other professionals shall disclose, with clients' consent, all pertinent information to the new service providers.

(3) Social workers are prohibited from giving or receiving payment for a referral when no professional service is provided by the referring social worker.

G. Sexual relationships.

(1) Social workers who function as supervisors or educators shall not engage in sexual activities or contact with supervisees, students, trainees, or other colleagues over whom they exercise professional authority.

(2) Social workers shall avoid engaging in sexual relationships with colleagues when there is potential for a conflict of interest. Social workers who become involved in, or anticipate becoming involved in, a sexual relationship with a colleague have a duty to transfer professional responsibilities, when necessary, to avoid a conflict of interest.

H. Sexual harassment. Social workers shall not sexually harass supervisees, students, trainees, or colleagues. Sexual harassment includes sexual advances, sexual solicitation, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.

I. Impairment of colleagues.

(1) Social workers who have direct knowledge of a social work colleague's impairment that is due to personal problems, psychosocial distress, substance abuse, or mental health difficulties and that interferes with practice effectiveness shall consult with that colleague when feasible and assist the colleague in taking remedial action.

(2) Social workers who believe that a social work colleague's impairment interferes with practice effectiveness and that the colleague has not taken adequate steps to address the impairment shall take action through appropriate channels established by employers, agencies, licensing and regulatory bodies, and other professional organizations.

J. Incompetence of colleagues.

(1) Social workers who have direct knowledge of a social work colleague's incompetence shall consult with that colleague when feasible and assist the colleague in taking remedial action.
